Saying Goodbye to Another School Year

I was visiting a school for Open House last night and what I observed made me step back and think to myself, "This is the picture of the Hawthorne School District I want the world to see!"

The school was filled with families. Dads were carrying small children. Moms holding the hands of the older siblings. Some children there with grandparents.

Families were grouped together around math problems they were all working at solving. There was laughter at some outrageous answers and some high-fives when a third grade student solved the problem.

The cafeteria was filled with parents and students who are getting ready to make the big leap to the middle school. Middle school administrators came to highlight their new academy format and help parents decide what program would be the best fit for their child.

The teachers were engaged in meaningful conversations with parents and students. Former students were coming back for a visit with a favorite teacher. Teachers who had transferred to other schools came back to visit with former students.

The principal was out greeting parents, visiting classrooms, and interacting with students. Students took joy in both greeting the principal and in being greeted in return by their name.

The custodians were helping parents find classrooms and keeping the campus clean all while smiling at students and lending a hand where needed.

Every classroom highlighted the academic progress the students are making. Their data charts showed the percentage of students meeting proficiency or in kindergarten and first grade how many words each student can read with ease. The school-wide recognition of student achievement was everywhere, with lists of students' names who had mastered their math facts or excelled in language arts.

Large banners welcomed families and others with inspirational messages for students were displayed.

The Parent Center was a hub of activity with volunteers running a book sale fundraiser and a community business partner selling healthy food choices for a family dinner.

There was so much more I observed but couldn't possibly fit in the space of this article.

I thought about all of the horrible financial difficulties we have dealt with for the last few years. We continue to have fewer resources while at the same time

Despidiéndonos de Otro Año Escolar

Anoche fui al "Open House" de una de las escuelas y lo que observé me hizo reflexionar y pensar que "¡Esto es lo que quiero que el mundo sepa del Distrito Escolar de Hawthorne!"

La escuela estaba llena con familias. Papás cargando niños pequeños. Mamás llevando de la mano hermanos mayores. Algunos niños con sus abuelos.

Las familias estaban reunidas en grupos para resolver problemas matemáticos. Había risas con algunas respuestas inesperadas y celebraciones cuando algún estudiante del tercer grado resolvía el problema.

La cafetería de la escuela estaba llena de padres y estudiantes que se están preparando para pasar a la escuela intermedia. Los administradores de las escuelas intermedias estaban dando información de los aspectos más sobresalientes de sus academias nuevas y ayudando a padres a decidir cuál de estos programas serviría mejor las necesidades de sus hijos.

Los maestros mantenían conversaciones de interés con los padres y estudiantes. Algunos de los ex-alumnos visitaban a sus maestros favoritos. Los maestros que se trasladaron a otra escuela vinieron a visitar a sus ex-alumnos.

El director de la escuela dando la bienvenida a padres, visitando salones, e interactuado con los estudiantes. Los estudiantes mostraban su agrado al saludar y ser saludados por el director por su nombre.

Los conserjes ayudando a los padres a encontrar los salones y manteniendo el plantel escolar limpio mientras mantenían una actitud amigable y ayudaban donde fuera necesario.

Todos los salones mostraban el progreso académico de los estudiantes. El porcentaje de estudiantes que han cumplido con el nivel de aprovechamiento era reflejado en graficas o en los grados del Jardín de infantes y el primer grado cuantas palabras podían leer los estudiantes con facilidad. El reconocimiento a los estudiantes en su aprovechamiento era evidente en todos lados, con listas de estudiantes que han logrado el dominio de factores matemáticos o en lenguaje.

Pancartas daban la bienvenida a las familias y había otras con mensajes de inspiración para los estudiantes.

Observe muchas otras cosas que por falta de espacio es imposible incluir en este artículo.

Where Champions are Made!

What a year for the Huskies! Bud Carson Middle School has excelled both on and off the court.

Our boys' basketball team, led by Coach Anderson, earned the title of league champions by defeating Dana in the playoffs 49-46. Our Huskies also won the Posey tournament and the Redondo Beach Youth Basketball tournament.

Our Flag Football team can also be proud of a great season. Our Huskies went undefeated in regular season play, losing only in the championship game.

Our MESA students excelled in both local and regional competitions held at USC and Cal State LA. Our top winners include Diana—first place in the speech competition, Kimberly—first place in algebra, Brian—second place in algebra, and Jocelyn—first place in Algebra at Large.

We also have the top speller in HSD: Aldo, two-time spelling bee champion, defeated all competitors to take the title of the district's best speller.

Eucalyptus Families and Staff Giving Back

The weather could not have been more opportune for our "Lemonade Stand for Japan" held on April 1. We were fortunate to find the sizzling sun shining brightly and to have great staff, students, and parents on hand to help raise funds to support the victims of the tragic earthquake and tsunami in Japan. The idea to hold this event started with three motivated students from Mr. Takata's fifth grade classroom: Hazel Cartagena, Katie Chow, and Jennifer Colon. These students developed the idea for the fundraiser and then recruited other students, staff, and parents to lend their support. They volunteered to buy, make, advertise, and sell delicious and refreshing lemonade. The students solicited and received donations of lemonade, ice, water, coolers, and cups to make this event possible. The "Lemonade Stand for Japan" was a big hit with all Eucalyptus families and the students proudly were able to raise $823 to send to the American Red Cross to aid the victims in Japan. We applaud the philanthropic work of these students and appreciate the giving spirit of all Eucalyptus families.

College Is Just Around the Corner for HMSA's Class of 2011 By Marianne Ramos

According to most seniors, the 2010-2011 academic year has flown by. At the beginning of their year, college applications, letter of recommendations, and scholarships were their initial concern. Once the November deadlines passed, financial aid was their next hurdle. The FAFSA, Cal Grant GPA Verification process, and lessons about Work Study, Loans, and Grants were their focus until February 2011. As early as January, some seniors began receiving acceptance letters. For most however, they participated in "the waiting game." A majority of HMSA seniors starting receiving their college admission decision letters in March 2011.

To date, HMSA's Class of 2011 has a grand total of 189 acceptance letters. Considering this graduating class' size of 118 students—this is a tremendous feat. Among the California colleges HMSA students have been accepted to are: Pomona College, Loyola Marymount University, USC, UCLA, UC Berkeley, UC Irvine, UC Riverside, UC Santa Cruz, UC Davis, and CSU Long Beach. Some of the out of state colleges that HMSA students have been accepted to are: Cornell, Drexel University, Howard University, Purdue University, and Texas A&M University.

Each students' admission acceptance is further proof of their unyielding commitment to academic excellence. According to Mr. Launius, and most at HMSA concur, "It is fascinating how our students develop and maintain an intense work ethic that is extrinsically created from high expectations and a policy of no excuses at HMSA, and I find it incredibly rewarding when alumni discuss how well prepared they were for college and how that extrinsic motivation transformed into an intrinsic desire to retain that level of productivity."

Activities at HMS By Maritza Jauregui and Wendy Ostensen

Our HMS Hawks have been participating in some wonderful activities recently. Our Two Way Bilingual Immersion students enhanced their interviewing and bilingual communication skills while on a fieldtrip to Northgate Market. Students interviewed employees from a variety of departments and completed oral presentations afterward. Students also extended a classroom activity to include a cost analysis conducted at the market. Great job, TWBI kids!

Our trimester reward day was filled with entertainment for students who earned good grades and displayed appropriate behavior in the second trimester. Our 3rd trimester reward will be hosted in June for students who exhibit the same qualities. At HMS we acknowledge students who do whatever it takes to reach their goals!

Upcoming events for students include career day, talent show, high school road show, awards assemblies, and the 8th grade promotion ceremony and dance.

Thanks to our student and parent helpers in supporting all of our HMS activities and have a safe and happy summer!

Star Testing is Complete & Summer Approaches!

We have just completed STAR Testing for the 2010-2011 school year! Each year, California's Standardized Testing and Reporting Program measures your child's progress in meeting California's academic content standards. These standards describe what all students should know, and what all students across the state should be able to do at each grade level. Jefferson teachers and students have been working very hard all year to prepare for this important assessment. You can expect to receive your child's STAR Report in August of this year. The report will show your child's personalized scores on the STAR Program test, and are one of several tools used to follow your child's educational progress.

We are proud of our academic achievements at Jefferson School. Jefferson has received a "Similar Schools" ranking of 9 in the state of California. This means that when our academic performance is compared to schools with the same demographics we scored a 9 on a 10 point scale! We are very pleased with our on-going academic growth and are committed to providing the highest quality education for our students.

With summer vacation just weeks away, we encourage all Jefferson students to continue reading throughout the summer and developing the skills necessary to succeed in school. Reading daily increases vocabulary, improves comprehension, and makes reading easier and faster. Visit our Jefferson School website this summer for lists of recommended books, museums, and educational links that are great fun! On behalf of the Jefferson School faculty and staff, I wish all of our families a fantastic summer.

Parenting Classes

It is difficult to help children with their daily homework assignments when unable to read or comprehend English. P.V. South offers English classes for adults. On Thursday's Parenting Classes are held. Two levels of classes are taught, beginning and intermediate. Beginning class students learn Basic English vocabulary and grammar to help them navigate the English-speaking world.

Intermediate class students further develop their English speaking, reading and writing skills. Winter session students created portfolios demonstrating how to access healthcare services in the community.

Spring students are learning how to communicate with the DMV, register a vehicle and ways to deal with a traffic citation. Students may register directly in classroom 21 or 22 or inquire in the school's main office. There is a registration form and $25 registration fee required for enrollment. Even Start parents please register in the school office. For information on upcoming summer classes please call (310) 263-3165.

"Bringing Math and Science Learning to Life"

At Kornblum, students are incorporating their math and science learning into real-life experiences through fun and educational projects. In April, we began the transformation of our playground into a mathematical masterpiece. Teachers, support staff, and students provided input and worked together to paint existing playground objects to reflect various math vocabulary and concepts including geometry, algebra, and number sense. Students are now enjoying such activities as fact fluency hopscotch and fraction model four-square on a daily basis. In March, many of our 4th grade students participated in Kornblum's 2nd Annual Science Fair. Students worked hard to create projects that reflected their learning of the scientific method, presented, demonstrated and answered questions regarding their individual projects. Both these and future projects reflect our dedicated staff's commitment to support each student in achieving academic excellence by continuing to provide opportunities for them to develop a love of learning through meaningful enrichment activities.

Wide Range of Student Opportunities

PVMS students and parents participated in a wide variety of activities during the past school year! Dr. Sanchez and Mr. Cooper took part in the Getty Museum's Multiple Visit Program. Students visited the museum, they learned about a different type of artwork that would have been found in ancient Rome. Students created their own frescos and mosaics. For their final project, the students designed the artwork for a mythical Roman villa. At the USC MESA Day competition, PVMS students won numerous awards including 2nd place in General Math, 2nd in Pre-Algebra, 1st in Algebra, and 3rd in Mouse Trap Design. The PVMS Cheer Squad cheered at our school athletic events and performed at a Los Angeles Sparks basketball game. The Student Council hosted dances and reward activities. The talent show was a big success with students singing, dancing and playing instruments. Parents visited a local supermarket as part of a four week nutrition class. At PVMS, we continue to enhance the education process in order to increase student academic progress. We look forward to next year, when we will add AVID and a Fine Arts experience to our wide range of student opportunities.

Continue Your Child's Learning Through the Summer

Can you believe it? Another year is just about over and summer break is almost here again. We have had a great year at Ramona School. Students, teachers, parents and staff have worked very hard and I want to take this opportunity to extend my thanks to everyone.

As summer approaches, students are looking forward to play time. During a long summer break, students often lose a little of what they were taught during the year. Here are some things that parents can do with their children to encourage out-of-school learning.

Summer is a good time to visit the local library. Several libraries offer a summer reading program that children can take part in. This will motivate children to get interested in reading. Reading, as you know, is a key component to a student's success. You can also get an assortment of workbooks that give practice in all of the basic skill areas. Have your child do a couple of work book pages a day.

Even during the summer children need some kind of structure at home. This is the time to visit various museums and places of historical interest in your area. Have your child keep a journal of his/her summer activities. Summer is an opportunity to spend quality time with your children.

I wish all of you a wonderful summer and look forward to seeing you next school year.

York Superstars Learn the Value of Giving

An Arab Proverb states "If you have much, give your wealth; If you have little, give of your heart." York parents, students and staff have recently given their wealth and their heart to support a cause that has affected many of us, collecting (Pennies for Patients) donations to benefit the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society. All proceeds go towards youth that are battling cancer.

Encouraging children to help others is a valuable lesson for our students to learn. Each class collected money during a 3-week period, to support the cause, with the class collecting the most, earning a luncheon sponsored by a local restaurant. York School's grand total was $2992.76, with Ms. Perez's class bringing in $390.62 to earn first prize, and the luncheon.

Ms. Reyes and Ms. Estrada helped to facilitate the project, and added "This is a wonderful program because it provides an opportunity for our students to experience the value of giving to others, and also contributes towards helping to save lives."

Ms. Perez, Ms. Leibensperger and Ms. Madrid are proud of their students.

STAR Kick Off BBQ

The STAR assessment is coming and our students are ready! On Friday, May 6, 2011 the Washington School students and staff kicked off the STAR assessment with a motivational yet fun Reaching for the Green Assembly and BBQ. The event was a complete success. Students gathered on the playground and heard a motivational assembly from their principal Mrs. Gutierrez. After the assembly they arranged their blankets and towels on the blacktop and enjoyed a picnic style lunch with their teachers and friends. The BBQ included turkey dogs, chips, carrots, cookies, and juice. As soon as students finished their lunch, they transitioned to the grass area and danced to the beats of D.J. Lee Hanzy, one of Washington School's parents. All of our students wore green for the event and they had an exceptional time. We are certain that our students will continue to surpass state and federal goals on the STAR assessment. We look forward to another successful testing year!

Zela Davis Kindergarten Students Show Their Patriotism

By: Rita Suh, Kindergarten Teacher

Our kindergarteners have just completed the "Red, White, and Blue" Language Arts unit. Within this unit, our students discovered what it means to be patriotic for our country. We have learned that patriotism means loving and respecting your country. The most interesting portion of the unit was learning about the symbols and monuments of the United States and California. We have also learned characteristics of a good citizen, which include helping others, being brave, honest, and respectful. The students now know that good citizens are responsible and vote for important issues. We had the opportunity to create commercials with our classmates and the students practiced their right to vote and voted for their favorite persuasive commercial. To wrap up our exciting unit, all the Kindergarten classes held a Patriotic Presentation for our parents. The students wore patriotic costumes, sang songs, and recited facts about our country.

If you do not have a computer at home, computer access is available at the District Office throughout the summer, and at the school's parent center throughout the school calendar year. A paper application will no longer be mailed to your home.

Federal regulations require families to submit a new application annually. If your child received a free or reduced price meal this school year, they will go to paid status during the 2011-2012 academic year, unless a new application is submitted. Beat the busy time and complete your child's application on our secured website, AFTER July 1, 2011.
