Thank You and Happy New Year!

A big thank you to the voters of Hawthorne for approving Measure HSD. As we started the new school year, students, staff, and families could see some of the improvements we were able to complete during the summer months. While we have a lot of work still planned, we started the process of freshening up the playgrounds at several of our sites and installing new flooring at PVMS and Jefferson. All of our schools will see improvements as we move forward. In order to maintain a good learning environment for our students we tried to complete the large projects while students were on vacation. This summer Jefferson School and PVMS had new flooring installed. In order to be the best stewards of these funds we want to try the products at a site or two to determine how well they will sustain the hard wear they will be exposed to with hundreds of students and adults.

Future projects include HVAC, flooring at all school sites, painting, fencing, and specialized projects at several sites. It is a long process but the end result will have a positive impact on students and the community.

Again, thank you for your support and welcome back to a new school year!

Dr. Helen E. Morgan
Superintendent

¡Gracias y feliz nuevo año escolar!

Muchas gracias a los votantes de Hawthorne por aprobar la Medida HSD. Cuando comenzamos el nuevo año escolar, los estudiantes, el personal y las familias pudieron ver algunas de las mejoras que pudimos completar durante los meses de verano. Si bien aún tenemos mucho trabajo planeado, comenzamos el proceso de renovar los patios de recreo en varios de nuestros sitios e instalar nuevos pisos en la Escuela Secundaria Prairie Vista y Primaria Jefferson.

Todas nuestras escuelas verán mejoras a medida que avancemos. Con el fin de mantener un buen ambiente de aprendizaje para nuestros estudiantes, estamos tratando de completar los proyectos grandes mientras los estudiantes están de vacaciones. Este verano, la Escuela Primaria Jefferson y Secundaria Prairie Vista instalaron nuevos pisos. Para ser los mejores administradores de estos fondos, queremos probar los productos en uno o dos sitios para determinar qué tan bien sostendrán el desgaste al que estarán expuestos con cientos de estudiantes y adultos.

Los proyectos futuros incluyen climatización, pisos en todos los sitios escolares, pintura, cercas y proyectos especializados en varios sitios. Es un proceso largo, pero el resultado final tendrá un impacto positivo en los estudiantes y la comunidad.

Nuevamente, ¡gracias por su apoyo y bienvenidos nuevamente a un nuevo año escolar!

Welcome back to a new school year. This is one of our favorite issues when the principals share their bios.

It is always nice to read where they went to college, about their families and hobbies. The one common thread is all of the principals are dedicated to education.

In her message on page 3, Superintendent Dr. Morgan brings you up-to-date on the improvements made during the summer and projects for the future.

It will be an exciting school year and we look forward to continuing to bring you the news from the classrooms. Thank you for including School News among your reading choices. Our next issue is November 6.

Is it Just A Stomachache or Something More?

Roy Nattiv, M.D.,
Pediatric Gastroenterologist, MemorialCare Miller Children's & Women's Hospital Long Beach

All children at some point experience stomachaches, but recurring stomachaches or ones accompanied by other symptoms may be a sign of something more serious.

Abdominal pain can be caused by a variety of gastrointestinal conditions including inflammatory bowel disease (IBD). IBD is a term used to describe two conditions: Crohn's disease and ulcerative colitis.

Ulcerative colitis can cause inflammation and sores along the lining of the large intestine and rectum. While Crohn's disease can affect the entire gastrointestinal tract including mouth, stomach, small and large intestine. Inflammation from Crohn's may often spread deep into adjacent organs.

- Nearly 25% of the estimated 1.6 million Americans who suffer from IBD are diagnosed by age 20 and up to 1 in 10 are diagnosed before age 10. Symptoms of IBD include:

- Unexplained weight loss
- Abdominal pain and cramping
- Diarrhea
- Blood in your stool
- Fever and fatigue

There is no known cure for IBD. However, there are a great number of treatments and with proper guidance, IBD can be put into remission - allowing patients to grow and thrive without experiencing symptoms.

Identifying a More Serious Problem

Stomachaches will usually go away with time. However, if your child experiences frequent or persistent abdominal pain, diarrhea, bloody stool or weight loss then talk to your child's pediatrician about a consultation with a pediatric gastroenterologist, like the ones at MemorialCare Miller Children's & Women's Hospital Long Beach.

At Miller Children's & Women's, our team of pediatric gastroenterologists are experts in the diagnosis and medical management of IBD.

5 Simple Steps to a Healthy Family Media Diet

Many parents struggle with exactly how much screen time is OK for their kids. Is a half-hour show OK but a full-length movie “bad”? How much gaming should you allow when your kid also uses his computer for homework? Does Wikipedia count as “reading”? And when does a passion for say, video games, become problematic? The truth is, there is no magic formula. And just as every family differs in what they eat, when they eat, and what they like, a healthy media diet is different for every family. The key is making sure that the things that are important to your family are fairly balanced over the long term.

A healthy media diet balances activities (games, social media, TV), time (15 minutes? Three hours?), and choices (YouTube, Minecraft, Star Wars) with offline activities (sports, face-to-face conversations, daydreaming). At some point, kids will be able to manage their own media diets. In the meantime, these tips can help set them up for success. (Learn more about the screen time habits of families with kids under 8 in Common Sense Media’s most recent research.)

Find balance. Instead of counting daily screen-time minutes, aim for a balance throughout the week. Get your kids to help plan a week that includes stuff they have to do and stuff they like to do, such as schoolwork, activities, chores, reading, family time, and TV or gaming. Decide on limits and behavior using our Family Media Agreement.

Walk the walk. Put your devices away while driving, at mealtimes (learn about our Device-Free Dinner initiative), and during important conversations. Kids will learn habits from you.

Talk about it. Ask questions about kids’ favorite games, shows, and characters. Discuss ideas and issues they read about or learn about through a TV show or a game. This is an opportunity for bonding, learning, and sharing your values.

Create tech-free zones. Set rules that fit your family, such as “no devices during dinner,” “no social media during homework,” or “all screens off before bedtime.”

Check ratings. Choose age-appropriate, high-quality media and tech for your kids.

Common Sense Media is an independent nonprofit organization offering unbiased ratings and trusted advice to help families make smart media and technology choices. Check out our ratings and recommendations at www.commonsensemedia.org
